ASSAULT ON DR. FRED KEW.

ASSAILANT BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN PAID.

A possible explanation of the recent sensational attack made on Dr. Fred Kew, outside the Netherlands India Commercial Bank in Ice House Street, was advanced by Mr. Leo d'Almada, snr., on his appearance before Mr. Williams, at the Central Police Court yesterday afternoon, to prosecute Im Fun, a street coolie, on four charges arising out of the incident. According to the prosecutor there was reason to believe that the men were paid assailants.

Mr. d'Almada: As the defendant has not yet pleaded to these new charges, perhaps he might be asked to plead.

His Worship: I don't know if you will be asking for committal?

Mr. d'Almada: No, I am asking your Worship to deal with it summarily.

The charges were then put to the defendant in the following order:—(a) Common Assault; (b) Assault with intent to maim, disfigure or do other grievous bodily harm; (c) Assault actually occasioning grievous bodily harm; (d) Assault with intent to murder.

In reply to the first three charges the defendant entered pleas of guilty but denied the last count.

Incident Described.

Before calling Dr. J. H. McElney to give evidence as to the nature of the injuries sustained by the complainant, Mr. d'Almada recapitulated the events leading to the defendant's arrest. He said that Dr. Kew, as his Worship knew, was a dentist by profession but was now practising as a share-broker. In the course of his duties he had occasion to visit the Netherlands India Commercial Bank in Des Voeux Road, in the premises formerly occupied by the King Edward Hotel.

Dr. Kew's business was with the compradore of the Bank, the entrance to whose department was in Ice House Street, opposite Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master. On leaving the premises he was accompanied by Mr. J. Chon, who is employed in the compradore's department. The pair were walking down the steps when suddenly, and without any provocation, Dr. Kew was hit severely with a bamboo pole by the defendant.

Simultaneously another man, who was with the defendant and carrying a similar pole, also struck at the complainant, but fortunately Dr. Kew defended himself with his arm and received the blow across the wrist. The second wound was not serious but Dr. McElney would tell the Court that the injury on the head was of a severe nature and if Dr. Kew had not been wearing a thick felt hat he might have had his skull fractured. His Worship would see the seriousness of the offence and would inflict a heavy penalty accordingly.

Paid Assailants.

Referring to the motive, Mr. d'Almada said that Dr. Kew did not know the defendant and had never seen him before nor had he had any trouble with him. Dr. Kew had reason to believe, continued the prosecutor, that the defendant and the other man had been paid by some party or parties, but that was a matter which was at present occupying the attention of the Police.

Mr. d'Almada asked his Worship to deal severely with the defendant, because if such assaults were allowed to go by without serious punishment being meted out to check them no one in Hongkong would be free from any attack by anybody, especially if anybody had a grievance against a person, he would simply go to a coolie house and there pay $100 for a coolie to commit such assaults.

Dr. McElney then described the injury sustained by Dr. Kew. He said that it was a scalp wound on

A Time of Trial. Australian Clergyman's Experience.

After an illness, when the vitality has become depleted, there often follows a period when health still hangs in a balance.

Some people recuperate more quickly than others, but there are those who, seeming to have used up all their reserve strength, are unable to regain their former vigour. These "after-effects" may menace the health for a life-time.

During this time of trial, the convalescent period, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, are a wonderful aid. By enriching the blood and increasing it in quantity, they invigorate the whole functional, nervous and muscular system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills provide just that revitalising treatment which is the essential need after the ravages of serious illness have pulled the patient down.

A case of many where this remedy has been remarkably successful under these circumstances is recorded in Australia.

A Methodist Minister, Rev. D. A. C. Packett, of Natimuk, Victoria, states:

"After having been seriously ill with double pneumonia, I was, for a long time, in poor health, chiefly through impoverished blood. I could not perform my duties, could not regain my appetite nor sleep well. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and after taking them for three weeks I noticed definite improvement. I am glad to say that the course of these pills did me much good and remedied these distressing conditions. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me all that is claimed for them. Otherwise I would not give this testimonial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the most genuinely successful blood and nerve tonic in the world, are obtainable from all chemists. There is nothing else just as good.

CROWN LAND SALES.

KOWLOON LOTS SOLD YESTERDAY.

There was no competitive bidding for the two lots of Crown land offered for sale at the P.W.D. Offices yesterday, both offerings being disposed of at upset prices.

The first, Kowloon Island lot No. 2537, situated in Ma Tau Chung Road, containing about 7,570 square feet, with an annual rental of $90, was sold to Messrs. Lai Tat-sam, Lee Yung-cheung, and Tung Po-ku, at the upset price of $11,805.

New Kowloon Island Lot No. 1527, on the Castle Peak Road, of about 2,000 square feet, and with an annual rental of $50, was sold to Wong Sing, for $2,700.

the right forehead. It was a fairly big one and necessitated being stitched.

In reply to Mr. d'Almada, witness said that without the protection afforded by the felt hat which Dr. Kew was wearing at the time, it was possible though improbable that his skull might have been fractured. If the end of the pole had struck the complainant in the eye he might easily have lost the use of it.

Maximum Penalty.

His Worship convicted the defendant on "c" charge, which, he said, involved "a" and "b."

In reply to his Worship the defendant said that he had nothing to say.

His Worship imposed the maximum penalty of six months' hard labour and informed the defendant that the heavy punishment was inflicted because of the seriousness of the assault and, in the second place, because no reason had been put forward by the defendant. No reason had been shown why he should have made the serious assault on a man whom he did not know.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY AT HAPPY VALLEY.

A remarkable expression of respect and sympathy was paid to the memory of the late Mr. J. Colin Owen, when practically the whole of the staff of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co., together with members of various local Masonic lodges, attended the funeral, which took place at Happy Valley yesterday.

There was also a striking display of floral tributes, showing the esteem and respect in which Mr. Owen was held by the entire community.

The service was conducted by the Rev. E. A. Armstrong, and brother Masons acted as pall-bearers.

Among those who followed the cortege to the cemetery, and attended the service at the graveside were:—Mr. R. M. Dyer, Mr. E. L. Hosie, Mr. E. Cock, Messrs. H. M.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

What is believed to be a record in talking pictures—that of filming a production in exact sequence—was achieved in the making of "Common Clay" by Director Victor Fleming for Fox Movietone with Constance Bennett and Lew Ayres in the leading roles.

"Most pictures," Fleming explains,
"are made according to the requirements of stage space, preparation of sets, to economize on the salary of high-priced players by first shooting all the scenes in which they appear, and so on. Thus the final sequence of a production may be actually filmed first, the opening sequences next, and the middle sequences last."

"While such a method may save a certain percentage of the cost of making a film, it unquestionably works a hardship on the players in that they have no opportunity to "build" their emotions from one scene to the next. On the other hand, by beginning with the first scene in the script, and going on in the exact order in which the continuity is written, the players are enabled to pass smoothly and naturally through their various parts, and can give more thought to their logical character development. We followed this latter method throughout the production of "Common Clay" which perhaps accounts for some of the praise the picture has been receiving from screen critics."

Besides Miss Bennett and Mr.
Ayres, the cast of the film includes Tully Marshall, Beryl Mercer, Matthew Kelly, Hilda Hamilton, Fumell E.
Pratt, Charles McNaughton and other favorites. It is a faithful and unusually dramatic version of Cleveland Knicker's Harvard prize stage success, and will have its local premiere at the Queen's Theatre on Thursday.

"The Dancers."

Fine appreciation of the tense human interest and plentiful comedy contained in "The Dancers," Fox
Movietone directed by Chandler Sprague featuring Lois Moran and Phillips Holmes, marked the local premiere of that picture now showing at the King's Theatre.

"The Dancers" is the Movietone version of the famous stage play of the same name by Sir Gerald Du Maurier and Viola Tree. Its English locale and treatment is evident from the fact that Sir Du Maurier himself played the role of "Tony" in the original London stage presentation.
Subtlety and wisdom of direction is seen throughout in the very capable way Chandler Sprague handled both theme and cast. At every point his understanding of modern youth is evident.

The story deals with the romance of a young English couple who plighted their love as children in the kissed fashion, vowing to take no other in life until they were wed.
As "Diana," heroine of this sweet love story, Lois Moran easily excels all her former efforts, while Phillips Holmes as Tony her lover gives a sincere and intelligent performance.
"Aunt Emily" excellently enacted by Mrs. Patrick Campbell refuses to sanction their marriage.

Tony sails for Canada where he works in the lumber camps, saving money, resisting the temptations of dance hall entertainers, and dreaming only of the day he can sail to claim his promised bride.

"Maxine," star entertainer at the saloon, falls in love with him and follows him to England where he returns after the death of his uncle.
Now the situation is finally cleared up bringing happiness to all in climax of the picture, which is undoubtedly the finest tribute the screen has yet paid to the sterling qualities of modern youth.

Walter Byron, Mae Clarke and Tyrell Davis are all convincing in their respective roles.

"Men On Call."

Movietone coming to the King's Theatre starting Thursday was filmed amid backgrounds of imposing beauty found along the coastlines of rugged Northern California, and includes authentic scenes of actual Coast Guard stations at San Francisco, Cypress Point and Monterey Bay. They were obtained with the consent and co-operation of the government, and depict faithfully the actual conditions under which these heroes of Uncle Sam win their name of being "Men On Call."

Edmund Lowe, always to be remembered for his characterization of "Quirt" in "What Price Glory" and "The Cock-Eyed World" has the principal role. Others featured include Warren Hymer, Mae Clarke, and William Hymor, Harrison. This action thriller is from the pens of Tom Geraghty and Andrew Benni-son.

Barrymore's Talkie Cast.
"General Crack" the all-talking Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture, starring John Barrymore and now showing at the Queen's Theatre, includes in its cast people from all quarters of the globe and from widely variant ancestry.

Barrymore himself, as everybody knows, is a member of the celebrated Drew-Barrymore clan, known as the "royal family" of the stage. Lowell Sherman is a member of a family long famous in the English theatre.
Andres de Segovia is a Dane, descended from artistic people, his mother being an opera singer, his father a writer. These seem to be the only members of the cast who have had acting in their heredity and environment.

The veteran Bosworth was a runaway Ohio lad, who, after following the sea for a time, took to the boards, later to the silent screen and of course, to the talkies. Lodi was a General in the Czar's Army. Von Brinken in the Kaiser's command, duelling between times as a gentlemanly pastime. Gerard was born in Dublin and came to America from Trinity College, Dublin and Heidel-

WOMEN'S WORLD

FOR OUR LADY READERS.

Two Dainty Short-Sleeved Frocks.

[By Joan Savoy.]

Two charming frocks for the sweet girl graduate illustrate the 1931 model. Simple and universally becoming is a white crepe de chine (left) that has hand fastening, fine tucks and a surprise bodice tied with girlish sash. In the back. The little sleeves have fancy pleated cuffs that stand out in cute manner.

Elaborately embroidered organdie fashions the other, which can be worn all summer long as a party frock because its sheer cape is a removable little jacket of sorts, and a low necked gown appears when it is taken off. The frock is cut simply, with fine fitting and a sweet finish of pleated plain organdie. The sheer cape ties in the back in a neat little bow.

BEAUTY HINTS.

[By Alicia Hart.]

If your shoestrings become loosened, you just naturally reach down and tie them up tight.

The same trick does much for your chin, if the flesh on it, like your shoestring, has become loosened.

The hardest thing about strapping up your chin usually is to make up your mind about what kind of strap you will get.

If you have the time, the money and the patience, to be fitted for a chin strap by some expert beautician, that is one thing.

But so many women haven't. And it isn't in the least necessary to buy a patent chin strap to hold up that old chin that is going flabby on you. You can make your own chin strap, with surgeon's gauze or with strips of cheese cloth.

In one way it is particularly advantageous to make your own. The very effort you put forth in making the strap increases your interest in the process of jerking up the sagging chin.

Clean the face and neck thoroughly before strapping up the neck. Usually it is a good thing to take your hot bath and be your most relaxed self when you begin the process.

Apply nourishing cream and pat it into the neck and chin. Then put with cotton dipped into a good astringent, a strong one.

When you finish putting, either spread out the cotton you have been using for the astringent, or use a bigger one dipped into astringent, place it under the chin, push up the flesh accumulated there and commence tying it in this fashion.

Hold the pad in place with one hand and wind the gauze around it, up over your head, down in front of your eyes, under your chin and up over your head again. The first round or two must be quite tight to do any good. Fasten the end after you have used enough cheese cloth to hold the pad in place.

If you wear it to bed and keep it on all night, it is the best treatment. If you prefer to wear it a half hour before dinner, it still does you a lot of good.

A RESPECTED NAME.

2,000 Years of Cologne History.

When, two thousand years ago, Colonia Agrippina—present-day Cologne, but then a fortified Roman Camp on the border of the Unknown—suddenly rose to the dignity of Capital to the frontier province of Lower Germany, things looked rather promising. Apart from being a prosperous trading town, it soon became the centre of Roman glass manufacture, and recent excavations have brought to light some remarkably pretty specimens of the glass blower's art.

After the fall of the Roman Empire Cologne experienced a series of lean years and prosperous periods in quick succession, until the 30 years' war seemed to have dealt the death-blow to the fair city and its wealth. But it would take more than that to kill Cologne. Slowly the burghers were lifting their heads again, industry and commerce flourished anew, and a scented wonder water helped to spread its reputation far and near: Eau de Cologne.

It has made the name of Cologne known and respected in shop and bazaar the world over, and wherever the familiar "4711" with its Blue and Gold Label, or some of the other Eau de Cologne brands is to be found, it will evoke some thought of old Cologne.

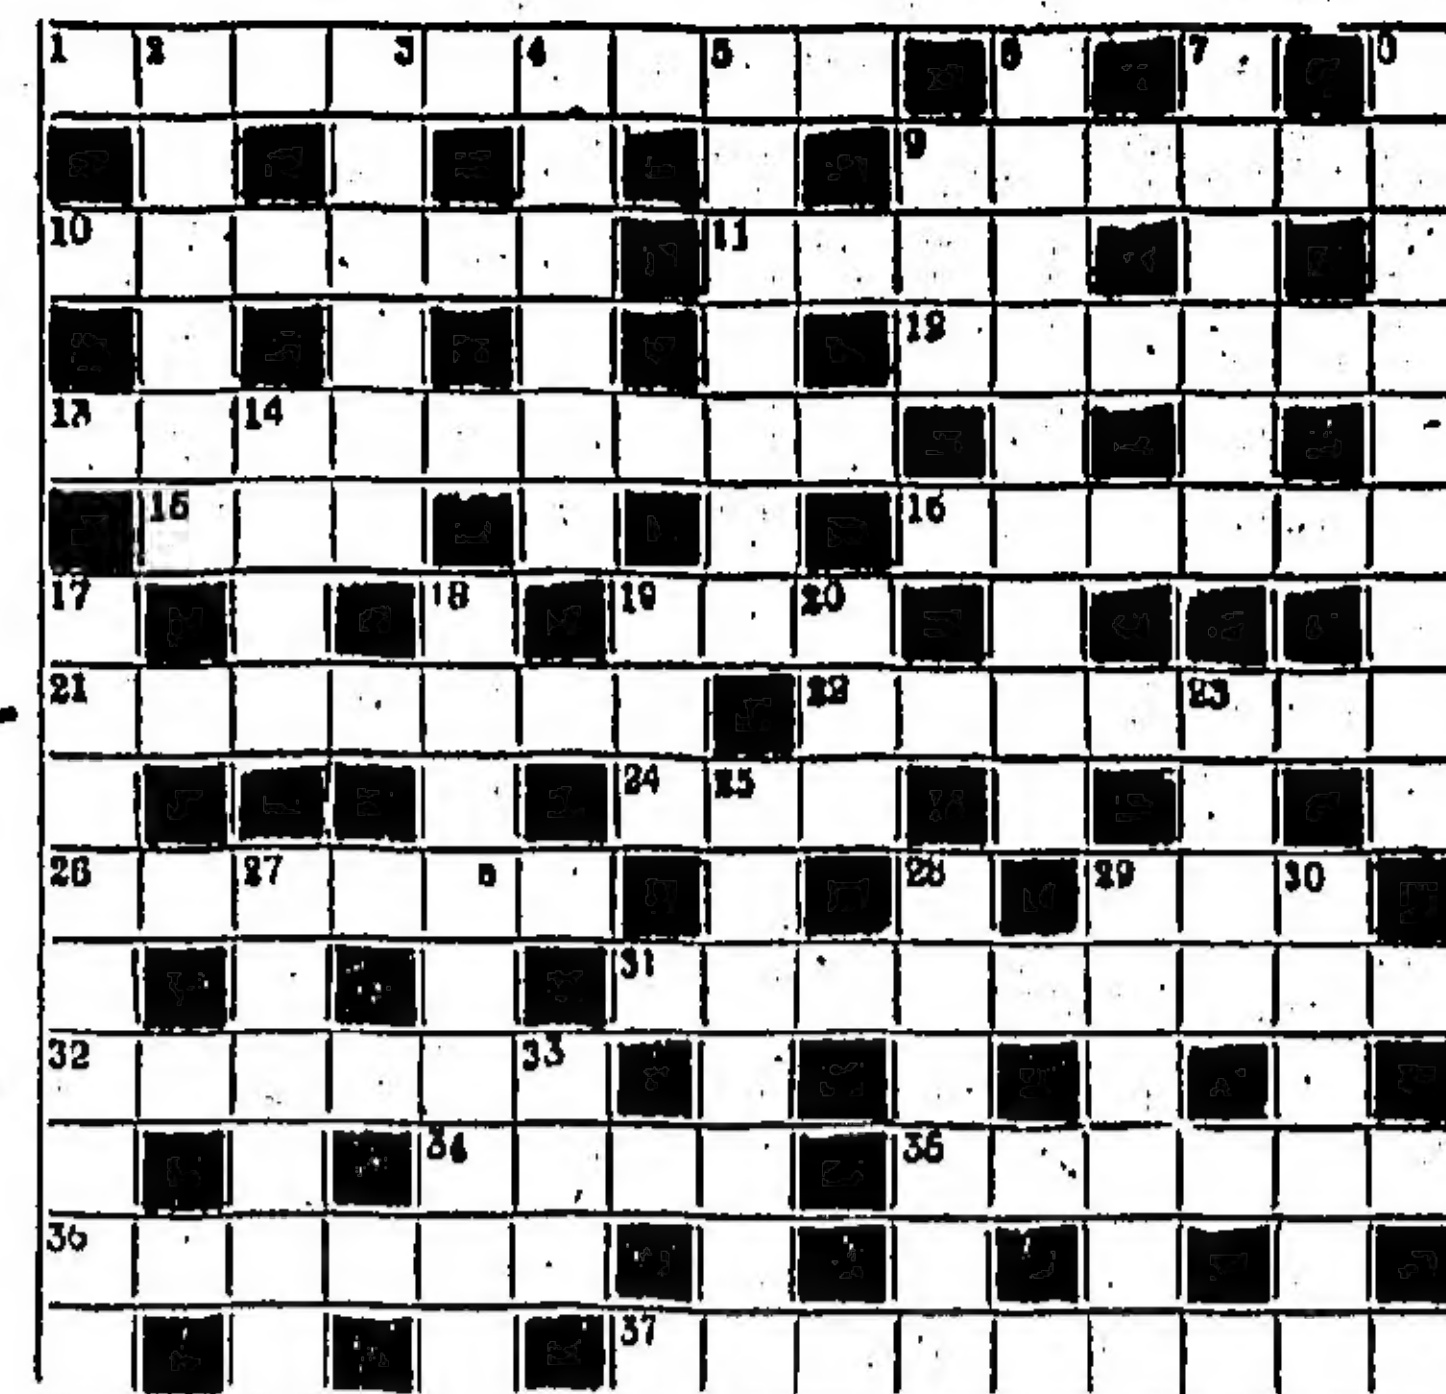

Today, four bridges are spanning the river Rhine within the city precincts, sea-going steamers are linking Cologne with London, Hull, and North German towns, its cathedral spires stab the sky—hazy with the smoke of factory chimneys, and life hums on, just as it did two thousand years ago when Agrippina, wife of Claudius Caesar, and mother of Nero, the redbeard, gave her name to the young colony of Imperial Rome.

"Miss Germany."

She's the 1931 model too, this Miss Daisy O'Ra, above, who is also the Baroness Freiberg. Chosen at a recent beauty contest in Berlin, she will go to America to represent her country at the international beauty contest in Galveston, Texas.

DIARY DEATH TALE.

LOST STUDENT'S WANDERINGS.

Winnipeg, June 11.

The remains of Mr. John Noel Bennett, an English student, aged 18, whose address is given as Manor-road, Coventry, and who died last winter in the wastes of Pine Pass while crossing the Rocky Mountains alone, are being sent home this week.

Mr. Bennett left Grande Prairie, Alberta, to cross to Prince George, British Columbia, 275 miles, on October 11, and was not heard of again till his remains were found last month.

Edmonton, Alberta, June 11.

Mr. Bennett's diary, which was found beside him, shows that he was surprised by wild weather.

Other entries showed:

November 1: Progress seemed hopeless.

November 2: Lost his horse, axe, and gun; spent the day recovering them.

November 4: Going in the wrong direction, and had to retrace his steps.

November 9 (after meanwhile wandering about in the rain with his food supply dwindling): Shot a wild duck, and ate it raw.

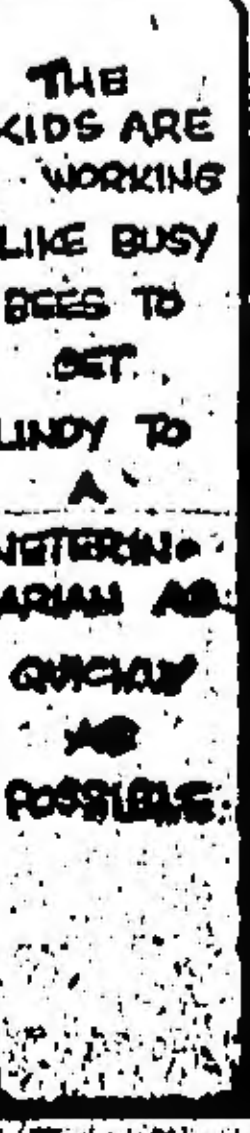

November 11: Abandoned the horse; saw raw now his only food.

On November 19 in a last flicker of hope Mr. Bennett made the last entry—that he expected to reach MacLeod [? Ft. McLeod, 40 miles west of Pine Pass]. In about a week.

TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1931.

JUVENILE COURTS.

As Hongkong is shortly to deal with the question of juvenile offenders, it may interest those who are concerned themselves in the movement, and the public as well, to learn the manner in which another Crown Colony is grappling with this problem. We refer to British Guiana, where the draft has recently been issued of an Ordinance to make provision for Juvenile Courts. In passing, we note that a newspaper published in the capital of this particular Colony, says legislation along these lines should have been enacted long ago, but, on the excuse that desirable things are better late than never, the journal congratulates the Government on the steps now being taken. The Ordinance is framed on relevant parts of the Children's Charter of England, which was an Act passed in 1908 for consolidating and amending the law in respect of children and young persons. A "child" is defined as a person under fourteen years, and "a young person" as one who is fourteen years of age and upwards but under sixteen.

Under the provisions of the Ordinance, summary charges, and, in special circumstances, indictable offences also, brought against children and young persons must be tried in a special court, or court-room, from which all persons other than newspaper representatives and those directly concerned in the case, are to be excluded. The admission of newspaper representatives does not permit them to publish the name, address, school, photograph, or anything likely to lead to the identification of the offender without the specific sanction of the Court. Special places for the detention of juvenile offenders are to be provided, and those may be supported out of public funds or by voluntary contributions. As a rule, however, these places of detention will be used only in cases of alleged murder, manslaughter, wounding and other very serious cases, as it is provided that juvenile offenders may be dealt with by numerous methods, such as discharging the offender on his entering into a recognizance, by discharging him and placing him under the supervision of a probation officer, by committing him to the care of a relative or other fit person, by sending him to an industrial school or reformatory, by ordering him to be whipped or to pay a fine, damages or costs, by ordering the parent or guardian to give security for his good behaviour, etc.

What is particularly interesting is that the Ordinance expressly forbids a sentence of imprisonment on any child; and it provides that a young person, if sentenced to imprisonment because he cannot be suitably dealt with any other way, shall not be allowed to associate with adult prisoners. The prime motive of this special legislation for juvenile offenders is to sweeten their environment. They frequently fall foul of the law through harmful influences in their everyday life; and as the law stands at present they find themselves pitched from the evil atmosphere of the streets into the equally evil atmosphere of criminal courts and gaols. The new Bill makes provision for the rescuing of children from disreputable surroundings and associates and have them committed to the care of relatives or other fit persons or institutions.

Vatican and Mussolini.

The renewed controversy between the Italian Government and the Vatican is to be deplored. Little more than two years have elapsed since the Lateran Treaty promised to bring an end to the Roman question. To-day friction of the dangerous kind is more in evidence than ever before and the prospects of harmony are fewer. There is, we are afraid, too much in Fascist theory, and still more in Fascist methods, which is repugnant to Catholics. In the Vatican's conception of Catholic education there is much which is anathema to the Fascists. It is these acutely differing ideas regarding the duties, responsibilities and upbringing of the youth of Italy in their relation to the Church and the State which have brought Mussolini and the Pope to the verge of an open contest. Il Duce provoked a quarrel by dissolving certain juvenile groups of the Azione Cattolica, an organisation which the Pope has repeatedly told the world he loves dearest of all lay institutions. The Pontiff has shown strong determination to stand by the Catholic Action movement, and though it is no secret that some Cardinals are anxious for a less intransigent spirit, an encyclical was issued during the week-end, directly critical of Signor Mussolini and Fascism which cannot but anger the Fascists and antagonise those in high places. In Italy who might have persuaded Mussolini to a conciliatory attitude, Fascists profess to treat the encyclical with indifference, but there is reason to apprehend that under the "calm reception" lies a bitterness more thought-provoking than a violent verbal attack on the Church. There may be justice in the complaint against Fascism. Little doubt exists that Mussolini is employing every possible method to inspire the youth of the country to "pagan worship of the State" with the object of consolidating the Fascist dictatorship. Some of the methods have offered a challenge to the Church. The Pope's encyclical has widened the breach. We earnestly hope that Il Duce reflects seriously before he replies. The Fascist mentality in the raw would destroy any hope of peace.

A bobbed haired woman of 5ft. 2ins., whose body was found in the lichen at Woodmill, Hants, is still unidentified. She wore a broken singlestone diamond engagement ring.

Speaking at a Canvey Island protest meeting against the Mr. W. N. Haddon said: "In a few weeks I expect to have my goods seized. I am quite prepared to go to prison."

YOU'RE A CAPITALIST!

GIBERT FRANKAU'S OPINIONS.

WE hear so much nowadays about the rights of labour that we are apt to forget another right inherent in all organised communities ever since the first ape-man fashioned the first club from the first bough. I refer to the rights of property, or to use a more modern expression, the rights of capital.

Even the doctrine of Communism, unworkable as it is, admits something of this right. The poorest slave in Russia, for instance, is entitled to his own jacket, his own shirt, his own trousers, and his own pair of boots. These are his property. Nobody is allowed to filch them from him. While in more civilised communities, such as our own, the entire evolution of the legal system—and without laws there can be no civilisation—is an evolution devised for the protection of one man's property against the rapacity of another.

In the National Records Office, if such things interest you, you can still see Domesday Book—our first record of land property. But ten thousand years before the compilation of Domesday Book the men of ancient Mesopotamia were making similar records on the enduring brick.

The rights of capital—the right of a man or woman to own his or her house, land, cattle, or money, are inherent in every organised community. Moreover, they are justly inherent. The moment this right is removed from the individual the main attribute which has raised man from the beasts is destroyed.

That attribute is thrift. And even in the animal world there are traces of it.

A squirrel's hoard of nuts, properly regarded, is not only its capital but the proof of its intelligence. And the more intelligent any community the more does its evolution tend towards encouraging its individual members to make themselves secure against possible want.

It is the wisest father, always, who struggles to make the future sure for his children. Nor has the world yet derived any advantage from the modern doctrine of leaving the care of one's children to the State. For this doctrine is sheer fecklessness, and it is an absolute law of nature that no thing feckless survives. Only the strong, the wise, and the farseeing races, whether animal or human, survive. The others go under—as Russia, for all her despairing struggle, is going under in the economic contest.

Because as soon as war is declared against capital, or a man's right to save money against his old age, and for the security of his own children is disputed, the very root-urge of human endeavour is cut away. And even if whips, as in Russia, succeeded in driving slaves to work for a time, they will eventually turn against the tyrant—because it is not in man's nature to be long a slave.

We are a long way yet from this Utopia. But in Great Britain, in America and in most other civilised communities we are working gradually towards it.

A hundred years ago the man who had saved five pounds hard-

An End to Class War.

We have the Post Office Savings Bank. We have Savings Certificates. We have our building societies. We have our provident societies, and our great insurance companies.

All these—and they all typify the rights of capital—offer the small investor facilities for thrift of which his ancestors never even dreamed. The invention of the limited liability company, for all its abuses, is destined to become the most beneficent invention ever devised by man.

This invention, rightly used, should eventually make it possible for every worker in an industry to become a shareholder in that industry. And once this can be brought about, the so-called war between capital and labour will automatically come to an end.

I foresee, indeed, a time when every worth-while worker is also a capitalist, interested not only in his weekly wages, but in the whole future of the concern for which he works. But there will be nothing socialistic about that time. In fact, it will be the very reverse of Socialism as it is still preached to-day.

Socialism, as it is still preached to-day, continues to befuddle itself with the idea that the rights of labour and the rights of capital are separate rights. Actually these two are one.

Marx is Exploded.

It is only fair to state, however, that many anti-Socialists also seem a little fuddled on this point—refusing as they do to recognise that all economic systems eventually modify themselves to suit the generality of human needs.

Capitalism in the old sense of the few rich and the many poor has had its day. The level of human intelligence, and the general demand for a better standard of life, are constantly rising. Our economic system has to meet that demand intelligently. And the only way it can meet it intelligently is by making capitalism democratic, by extending and extending and extending the individual opportunity for thrift.

The old socialistic ideas, the Karl Marx idea, of nationalised industrialism is already proved futile. But the rationalisation of industry proceeds apace. And Protection must come.

Let our workers share, by means of co-partnership schemes, in the increased security and the increased profits which should come from protection and rationalisation. Let every worth-while labourer be a capitalist—and even the widow draw a fair rate of interest on her mite.

PHIPPS argues WITH A BOOKIE.

Yesterday was Oaks Day at Epsom. Many persons suffering from palpitation of the pocket-book know this already. Still, there's no harm in mentioning it.

I shall not attempt to estimate the attendance, but I may mention that those present included a Scotch piper from Roxton, two Red Indians, and a squaw from West Ham, a man with a straw hat in the members' enclosure, and a horse which I shall cut absolutely dead in future, the horrid thing.

The Suffering Bookmakers.

It is only with a jump in my throat that I can bring myself to describe the Turf Accountants, or as they are sometimes called, Bookmakers. In their faces was a world of suffering and very few cigars.

With great haunted eyes Ned Nuts of Manchester coughed out his great haunted odds, registering the shifts of his clients with LONDON LOSES A NOTED SON.

DEATH OF SIR WM. WATERLOW.

1929 LORD MAYOR.

London, July 6. Sir William Waterlow, former Lord Mayor of London, died in a nursing home to-day, after a short illness, at the age of 60.

A well-known city magnate, he came of a Walloon Protestant family which emigrated from Lille 300 years ago and settled at Canterbury. Eventually they started a silk weaving business in Spitalfields, London, and their connection with the printing trade dates from 1790, when James Waterlow was appointed to a law stationer. Eventually, the printing firm of Waterlow and Sons was started.

The Waterlows have been connected with the Cornhill Ward of the City for over 100 years. The late Sir William's grandfather and great-grandfather were members of the City Corporation. Sir Sydney Waterlow being Lord Mayor in 1872 when a famous Christmas Day banquet was given at the Mansion House to the family.

Out of 200 available members, 180 were present, including a number of children in arms.

Sir William was educated at Marlborough and in Germany, and was admitted a solicitor in 1896. Two years later he became a director of the Waterlow firm. In 1904 he married a daughter of Thomas Gordon of Edinburgh.

When war broke out, he was asked by the Government to design a suitable paper currency with all speed. By noon next day his designs had been accepted and three days later some 5,000,000 had been delivered and an acute financial situation saved.

Throughout the war, he was a member of the City of London National Guard, helping to dig army trenches and eventually being given a commission. He was knighted (K.B.E.) in 1919.

Sir William served as President of the Federation of Master Printers of Great Britain and Ireland and of the London Master Printers' Federation. When the Lord Mayor's Miners' Relief Fund was started, he was very active in its administration and visited the distressed areas.

MORE DANGEROUS DRIVERS.

TRAFFIC OFFENDERS IN COURT.

BUS IN HURRY.

Summoned for dangerous driving on the Pokfulam Road, near the Ho Tung Engineering shop, the driver of an Aberdeen bus was fined $20 by Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning.

It was stated that defendant was following a motor lorry and attempted to pass on a bend. When he saw a Police officer coming in the opposite direction he swung in behind the lorry again. The manner in which he cut in behind the lorry was dangerous to the bus and the passengers.

The defendant, who was also summoned for not exhibiting his driver's badge, was fined $25 altogether.

30 M.P.H. on Bend.

For driving a motor lorry at a speed of about 30 miles an hour on the "S" bend above "Huntington" on Stubbs Road, the driver was fined $20 for dangerous driving and a further $15 for not having two efficient and independent brakes.

According to Sergeant Gullid the driver swung out into the middle of the road as he turned the bend. His hand brake was found to be useless but the foot brake was in good order.

"Got Frightened."

"She might have been all right until she met me on the bend when she got frightened," remarked a Police officer in prosecuting Miss

CROWN WITNESS REBUKED.

WOMAN TIRED OF BEING QUESTIONED.

MURDER TRIAL POINTS.

The Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp) reprimanded Tse Yung, a Crown witness, when the Yumudi murder case was continued this morning at the Criminal Sessions.

Witness failed to answer a question properly, and his Lordship said, "Let me warn you that you must answer the questions properly. This is a very serious matter, the murder of a man, and prisoner is on trial for his life. We are all trying to ascertain the truth of the matter and it is a troublesome business for all of us. Meanwhile I will not have any disrespect from you."

Witness:—I ask your Lordship's pardon. I am an ignorant woman. I have never been in Court before and I do not know how to act here.

Li Shat-hing was recalled when the trial resumed, and in reply to Mr. Jenkin, she denied she had imagined there was blood on deceased's face and that she saw prisoner throw a rope over deceased's head. She added that she had no grudge against prisoner and there was no reason why she should give false evidence against him.

In the course of giving evidence, in-chief, Tse Yung, after saying she saw prisoner throw a rope over deceased's head, remarked that it was no use talking so much about it. "I am getting tired of it," she added.

When witness was asked to use a wooden crown on the bench to demonstrate how she saw prisoner throw the rope over deceased's head, witness demurred, saying it was not a nice thing to do, but she finally did it.

Mr. Fitzroy:—Did you see Kau Shuk alive again?—How could I see him alive again after he was dead?

In cross-examination by Mr. Jenkin, witness said, "I am very much confused by your cross-examination. You are attacking me right and left. I am much shaken up and I don't know what to answer you."

The case is proceeding.

TEAR GAS BOMB AT LECTURE.

SEVERAL PEOPLE INJURED AT KIEL MEETING.

Kiel, July 1.

A tear gas bomb was thrown and several persons injured in the resultant panic during a lecture given here by the well-known authority on international law and member of The Hague Court, Professor Walter Schucking.

The perpetrator of the outrage, a National Socialist student, was arrested immediately and owns his life only to the timely intervention of the police which with the employment of gentle force prevented the enraged audience from lynching the bomb-thrower. After order had been restored, Professor Schucking, who had not turned a hair during the interruption calmly finished his lecture.

DIAMOND-LADEN FAMILY.

POLICE FINDS AT CONSTANZA.

Bucharest, July 6. Sensational finds rewarded police who searched the entire family of a suspected international diamond thief when they were leaving for Constantinople to-day.

The old man, who is 70 years of age, was going aboard a steamer at Constanza when he was asked to submit to search. Six large stores were found sewn into his garments, and twenty-six more found secreted in the clothing of four other members of the family, which included one woman.

Li of 60, Robinson Road for driving a motor car without a licence. The proper driver was summoned for allowing the lady to drive the vehicle, while a further summons was taken out against Chan Wai-chi, described as the licensee of the car.

The driver of the car appeared in Court and said that the lady Chan Wai-chi was now deceased. The other two summonses were admitted.

Inspector Alexander informed his Worship that the licence for the car was in the name of Chan Wai-chi but his Worship remarked that the new owner was probably awaiting probate before changing the ownership.

The summons against Chan Wai-chi was withdrawn while fines of $5 were imposed on each of the other two.

ANOTHER MUI-TSAI STORY.

WIDOW FINED FOR NOT REGISTERING.

GIRL'S COMPLAINT

A summons brought against Wong Shi, a widow, of 14, Po Tak Street, for keeping an unregistered mui-tsau, was mentioned before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning, when his Worship imposed a fine of $50 on the defendant.

The accused admitted that the girl was in her charge, but said she was merely being kept in the house for a relative who had gone abroad. The girl's mother was paying for her maintenance.

Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen, Assistant Secretary of Chinese Affairs, said the girl complained to the West Point Police Station on July 2 that she had been ill-treated. When examined at the S. C. A. later, she stated that she was purchased when she was six years of age (ten years ago) and had actually seen the deed of presentation, although she did not know where it was now.

Her work consisted of washing, cooking and sweeping the floors, and she also made charcoal cakes which she would sell to firewood dealers. The money accruing therefrom would be paid to Wong Shi. This latter statement was confirmed by the defendant when she was being examined at the S. C. A.

According to the defendant's story, a friend had left her daughter with the defendant when she went to Singapore about ten years ago. The girl was then six, but the defendant denied that there had been any deed of presentation. There had only been a verbal agreement that the girl was to be left in the defendant's charge to work for her in return for her board and lodging.

At the time $5 was given towards the girl's maintenance and during the first three years a total sum of $60 had been sent to the defendant, but nothing had been paid during the past seven years. The girl received no wages, but did house work, and, such, came under the definition of a mui-tsau.

It was not a serious case, as no lump sum had been paid, and it was correct that certain money had been paid for the girl's board during the first two or three years.

In reply to his Worship, Mr. Macfadyen remarked that the girl complained of having been beaten by the defendant and her nephew, although there were no marks of ill-treatment. It was not yet known that would be done with the girl, who was at present in the Po Leung Kuk.

A fine of $50 was imposed, his Worship remarking that the girl seemed to be fairly well nourished.

REVOLVER PLANTED ON YOUTH.

UNDER STREET SLEEPER'S BLANKETS.

Believing that a deliberate attempt had been made to plant a loaded revolver on a young Chinese sleeping in the street outside 1, Front Road, Causeway Bay, Inspector H. Roger, before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning, informed his Worship that the police were satisfied the boy, under whose blankets the weapon had been found, was entirely innocent of the affair.

A Chinese Cargant told the Court that, acting on information received, he went to Front Row at about 4 o'clock on Sunday morning and found a revolver loaded in two chambers, concealed under the blanket of a young Chinese who was sleeping, together with others, on the pavement outside house No. 1.

Inspector Roger intimated that the police believed that somebody had deliberately planted the revolver on the young Chinese, who knew nothing whatsoever of the affair.

On examining the weapon, his Worship remarked that it had apparently been used about 60 years ago! The revolver and ammunition were ordered to be confiscated.

INDIA CONFERENCE POSITION.

LATEST STATEMENT IN COMMONS.

London, July 6. Questioned on the carrying out of the Round Table Conference proposals for India, Mr. Wedgwood-Benn said he was in consultation with the Governments of India and Burma, but he was not yet in a position to make a statement.

In reply to another question regarding the next meeting of the Federal Structure Committee, he said "representation of the Dominions was not contemplated."

LATEST OPIUM SEIZURES.

BIG FINDS ON LOCAL STEAMERS.

FIREMAN GAOLED.

Opium valued at over $10,000, was seized by Revenue Officers in the coal bunkers of the s.s. Tonkin from Haiphong yesterday. Three firemen were arrested, of whom two were discharged, while the other was fined $5,000, or a year's hard labour by Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning.

Chief Preventive Officer Buller, prosecuting, expressed the view that the defendant was merely the hiring of the real smuggler, who had yet to be arrested.

Another large drug seizure was made on the s.s. Kueichow, in the engine room of which Revenue Officers yesterday found over 3,500 taels of opium. No-one was arrested.

All the evidence of the place being used as the headquarters of opium traffickers was found by Revenue Officers who raided the first floor of No. 8, Keecheung Street, yesterday under the direction of Revenue Officer Humphreys.

While the door was being forced open, a woman was observed to throw a parcel into a rear-lane, the parcel being subsequently recovered and found to contain raw opium. Three other parcels were also found in a room occupied by the woman, who was arrested.

Prosecuting in the case before Mr. Schofield this morning, R.O. Humphreys agreed with the Magistrate that the husband of the woman was behind the whole business. He was not in custody, and nothing was known against the woman.

The woman, convicted of possession of over 100 taels of opium, was fined $3,000, or ten months' hard labour.

KOREA OUTRAGES CONTINUE.

two, including fourteen women, seriously injured in the Pingyang riots.

About four thousand Chinese refugees have been accommodated in police stations elsewhere under police protection.

The despatch reports that a mob of three thousand Koreans attempted yesterday afternoon to attack a factory in which several hundred Chinese had taken refuge, but they were repulsed by the police who were compelled to shoot, killing seven Koreans.

Although most of the Chinese casualties occurred in the rioting on the night of the 5th-6th, four Chinese were assaulted and killed yesterday morning, after the main riots had been suppressed.

A party of fifty-one gendarmes has been sent to Pingyang as reinforcements.—Reuters.

NANKING LODGING A PROTEST.

ACTION IN KOREA REQUESTED.

Nanking, July 7.

The closest attention is being paid by the Government to the Sino-Korean incidents. Dr. C. T. Wang has asked, for a detailed report of the outrages. The Foreign Minister is also preparing a strong protest to the Tokyo Government.

Nanking official circles express a belief that the outrages have been inspired for undetermined reasons.

A Tokyo telegram says that the Chinese Minister, M. Wang Tung-pao visited the Foreign Office yesterday and requested that immediate action be taken to suppress further riots in Korea.—Reuters.

YOUNG WIDOW DUPED.

VICTIMISED BY WOMEN FORTUNE-TELLERS.

A young widow, named Chan Pat, has become wiser, though poorer by $45 after an experience with local fortune-tellers the other day.

She tells the police that, having been introduced to two women fortune-tellers, she handed them the money, which was in notes and wrapped up in a parcel. Much of the joss pigskin which followed was inexplicable and to her, wrapped in mystery, but it was designed to confer much wealth on the widow.

However, after the ceremony, she received back the parcel, but omitted to unwrap it until her return home, when she found that instead of the wad of notes having been augmented, it had been substituted by a bundle of useless paper.

The police are now looking for the two women fortune tellers.

WITH A BOOKIE.

Eschylean pathos. I drew nigh. "Well, Ned, not such a good meeting, eh?"

"Four bar one," said Ned Nuts, looking like a Burgher of Calais. "I mean, first you had Camoronian, then you had Parenthesis, and now you've got Brulette. Very, very vexing for you, what?"

"Four bar one," said Ned Nuts. So unoriginal these bookies—Turk Accountants.

"But look here, Nuts, surely all these favourites winning can't be good for business, if you know what I mean?"

"—I * * * *!" said Ned Nuts; and Ned Nuts added "I * * * *!" and Ned Nuts must be pretty strong because, when I come to a policeman was holding my hand (which was really toppling of him) and saying, "Give him air."

WATER-POLO LEAGUE.

LAST NIGHT'S CONTENTS.

Although they had a last minute search to get together a team, and had to send out four of their second division men, Kowloon were able to keep even with the Chinese Bathing Club in last night's first division water-polo fixture. They could not, however, gain a lead, and the match finished a one-all draw.

Kowloon actually had more of the play, but the presence of the inexperienced players told its tale and they failed to make the most of their opportunities. The teams were:

C. B. C.—Wan Kwong-tin, Wong Kam-fan, Leung Sui-mun, Shek Kam-pui, Chu Chi-cheuk, Chan Fook-shing, Lau Yum-ching.

Kowloon.—G. Angus, Franks, Stoker, E. Ralston, Brokenshire, Speira, C. Arie.

Second Division.

As was expected, the University were all over the weak Borderers in the second division fixture, and during the first half scored six goals to the soldiers' nil. The students slackened off in the second half but although they left many openings for the service team, no goal came. The match ended with the score: University, 9 goals; Borderers, nil.

University.—S. H. Wong, F. F. Lee, J. J. Gutteres, P. L. Tan, K. M. Lo, M. C. Lo, S. F. Chan.

Borderers.—Coleman, Valager, Sutcliffe, Harries, Brown, Smith, McCarthy.

The other second division game between the Argylls and Royal Signals was postponed. Sgt. O'Brien was referee.

Why is it so important to keep the right elbow tucked in close to the body?

Most golfers know that to hit a successful golf shot it is necessary to bring the club into the ball from the inside. To accomplish this, the right elbow must be held close to the body during the swing. Tommy Armour attributes much of his success to this simple fundamental.

Should the elbow wander away, the right hand is almost sure to have too much control, hitting from the outside and cutting across the ball.

If the player will concentrate on this particular duty, many of the fundamentals of the golf swing will automatically follow.—ART KRENZ.

BRITISH TALKIES IN HONGKONG.

account "second runs" the total would be 540 pictures per annum for the six theatres. If a 25% quota system was adopted here, which we are informed is the quota enforced in India and Singapore, at the instigation of the Board of Trade, the minimum number of British pictures required would be 135 per annum or say two per month per theatre. As many as Necessary and More.

We could quite easily supply very much more than this quantity from the contemplated releases of the various British producers for whom we act as distributing agents, so we can assure you there would be no difficulty in this respect.

But the standard of British pictures shown here in the past, has admittedly been very much below that of American productions, and in consequence theatre owners have been averse to contracting for such unpopular showings.

In this connexion we venture the opinion that until "Splinters," "Rookery Nook," "Plunder," "Lord Richard in the Pantry," etc., were brought into the Colony by our Company, very few theatre goers had had an opportunity of judging of the really excellent work that British producers are now turning out.

First-Class Successes.

In advising the producers as to what we considered stress on the fact that only proved first class successes should be sent to us and this is the present policy of our suppliers as far as Hongkong is concerned.

At this point we would mention that studies both in America and England are forced to turn out cheaper produced pictures as well as super pictures, as the latter would be quite beyond the purchasing power of the cheaper admittance priced cinema theatres in America and England.

Reasonable Offer.

To continue. If the powers that be should desire to adopt a quota system we, on behalf of the producers for whom we are working, have no hesitation in saying we would be quite content if same were only of a temporary nature. If it is found that the box office receipts do not justify the continuance of British pictures from a purely business point of view, then we are quite sure our principals would not wish to have a continuance of the quota, at a loss to theatre owners.

The adoption of a quota system would overcome the present long forward contract for American pictures, difficult, and whilst these contracts would still be in existence, and would have to be carried out in due course, a proportion of the showings would be deferred to make room for British showings on "force majeure" grounds. Certain theatre owners have expressed a desire to handle British pictures, but have advised us that they are powerless to do so for some time to come, unless some legal measure is put into operation.

Selling on Merits.

It is for this reason and for this reason only that we would welcome the adoption of a quota system, as if a general demand could be secured, we are confident that the type of picture we have arranged to distribute, would, in due course, sell on its own merits, without the need for further "quota" assistance.

With regards to terms it has now become the practice for distributors of American pictures to supply same on a percentage basis, and we are contracting to supply British pictures on these terms and at no higher percentage than is charged for similar American FERRY COXSAIN FINED.

ALMOST RAN INTO POLICE LAUNCH.

Wong Fook, the coxsain of the steam launch Man Sang, of the Shamshui Ferry, appeared before Commr. Newell, at the Marine Court this morning, to answer a charge of failing to observe the rule of the road on the evening of July 1.

Sgt. Warglan, who prosecuted, stated that at about 9.30 p.m. on the day in question, a collision nearly occurred between the No. 7 Police Launch, in which he was on patrol duty, and defendant's launch. He saw the defendant's launch approaching, but, without any warning, it crossed the bows of the police launch. On seeing what was happening, witness ordered full speed astern and the defendant's launch passed about 40 feet ahead of the police launch.

Defendant denied that he passed within 40 feet of the police launch, but stated that he could see it the whole time and was never within 600 feet of it.

A fine of $25 was imposed.

super productions, so there is no disadvantage in this connexion.

The "Duds."

In conclusion we would draw attention to one point that must not be overlooked in the fixing of a quota and that is the possibility of theatre owners, anticipating the same poor results that they have seen in the past, purchasing second class British pictures at cheap prices with an idea of keeping these anticipated losses to a minimum, and looking to the permitted number of more expensive American super-pictures to recoup themselves later on.

Box office receipts for inferior pictures will undoubtedly be poor, whether the pictures are British or American but if the policy we have recommended to our suppliers is made the general policy of all theatre owners dealing with British pictures, whether purchased from the studios we represent or elsewhere, then we venture the opinion that British pictures, after being given a thorough showing, will quite easily obtain a hold in this market and will continue to do so.

Thanking your many correspondents for the kind things they have said about our recent releases and you for the helpful interest you have shown in British pictures.—Yours, etc.,

TYRANNY OF THE UNIVERSITY.

YOUNG OXFORD'S DEMAND FOR REFORM.

London, June 16. A call for revolt against what he described as the "tyranny" of the University has been sounded by Mr. W. F. Morris, of Ruskin College, Oxford, a Rochester man who is up for his second year.

Mr. Morris, at the meeting of the University Labour Club, submitted a motion "that the time has now come for the reform of the University on the following lines": Abolition of the Proctorial privileges, such as gate money, Equality of treatment for men and women undergraduates, Undergraduate representation on college and university councils.

After a short discussion, the motion was postponed till a later date.

"I am quite serious," Mr. Morris told the News-Chronicle, "and I want the question discussed seriously."

"Much of the present system is more fitted for younger people than for men and women. The less interference by authorities, the better chance the individual has of finding himself."

So far as the women were concerned, Mr. Morris said the chaperon rules were Victorian and were totally out of keeping with the outside world to-day.

Responsibility.

Sir Michael Sadler, the Master of University College, commenting on the resolution, said:

"The last proposal is, to my mind, the most important, and interests me most. I do not know whether the undergraduates themselves would wish to have any more responsibility in college life than they now possess. They have had heavy responsibilities as Sixth-form boys at school and are glad to be relieved from similar duties. An Oxford college is a democracy, not a school."

"Undergraduates' representatives would find that an effective share in the work of the University would be too heavy a tax on their time. They would not serve long enough to get acquainted with the business, and the method of electing representatives from the whole body of undergraduates would present many difficulties."

LADIES' GOLF.

HANDICAPS MAY BE OBTAINED AT HAPPY VALLEY.

Captain's Cup.—Mrs. Roffey qualifying for June, 85—6=79.

Electric Competition.—Mrs. Piercy won, 65—2=63. Miss C. B. Robinson, second, 70—4=66.

Handicaps may now be obtained at Happy Valley. Men's tees must be used and players are warned that the L.G.U. book must be signed before taking out a card. Attention is also drawn to the fact that only one card per week may be taken out for the purpose of handicap. The week starts on Sunday and ends on Saturday, so that a card may be taken out on Saturday and Sunday but not on any other consecutive days.

BATHING TRAGEDY.

SEPOY DISAPPEARS WHILE IN DEEP WATER.

Police at Hungnam are searching for the body of a Sepoy named Mohammed Lamam, who is believed to have been drowned while swimming in deep water at Hungnam Bay at 5.30 p.m. yesterday. He was attached to the Indian Medical Service. At the time of the tragedy he was wearing a black swimming costume.

SHOT IN BARRICADED HOUSE.

POLICE DEFIED FOR FOUR HOURS.

Huntingdon, June 14. For four hours this morning the police at Huntingdon watched a cottage which an armed man had locked and barricaded and from which he occasionally hurled defiance at them.

Eventually a ladder was put to the bedroom window, and the man, George Smith (who has been known in the district as 'Alfred Cole') then shot himself dead.

Previously he had shot a Swiss named Maritz Jean Amoudruz, who is now in hospital in a critical condition.

The tragedy seems to have been the outcome of the quarrel of two friends over a woman.

Amoudruz, a painter and decorator 61 years old, lived with Smith until last Thursday when they quarrelled. Amoudruz was turned out and went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Earl at Brampton, 2½ miles away.

At midnight last night Smith cycled to Brampton and, knocking at Mr. Earl's door, called for Amoudruz.

Smith was armed with a service rifle which he had hidden in the fields while on a visit to Brampton earlier in the evening.

Amoudruz got out of bed, opened the door, and immediately was shot.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl rushed downstairs and found him lying across the door-step suffering from severe wounds in the chest and shoulder.

Police Threatened.

Smith disappeared and the police began a search for him. At three o'clock in the morning it was found that he was in his cottage, a little dwelling in a court off the High-street, in the centre of Huntingdon.

Upon seeing the police Smith pushed his aged housekeeper out of the house and bolted and then barricaded the door. He told the police that he intended to have his night's rest, and they could come for him at eight o'clock.

The police kept watch on the place until seven o'clock, Smith frequently threatening them. Shortly after seven o'clock Police Sergeant Waters placed a ladder against the bedroom window and began to climb up.

Smith immediately threw open the window and called out that if Waters entered the room it would be as a dead man. He then banged the window down and a second or two later a shot was heard.

Thinking this might be a rise Sergeant Waters placed his helmet on a pole and pushed it in front of the window.

As nothing happened he climbed into the room, where he found Smith lying across the bed dead. Some years ago Smith married a widow over 70 years of age, but she died soon afterwards.

'PLANES TO SINK A BATTLESHIP.

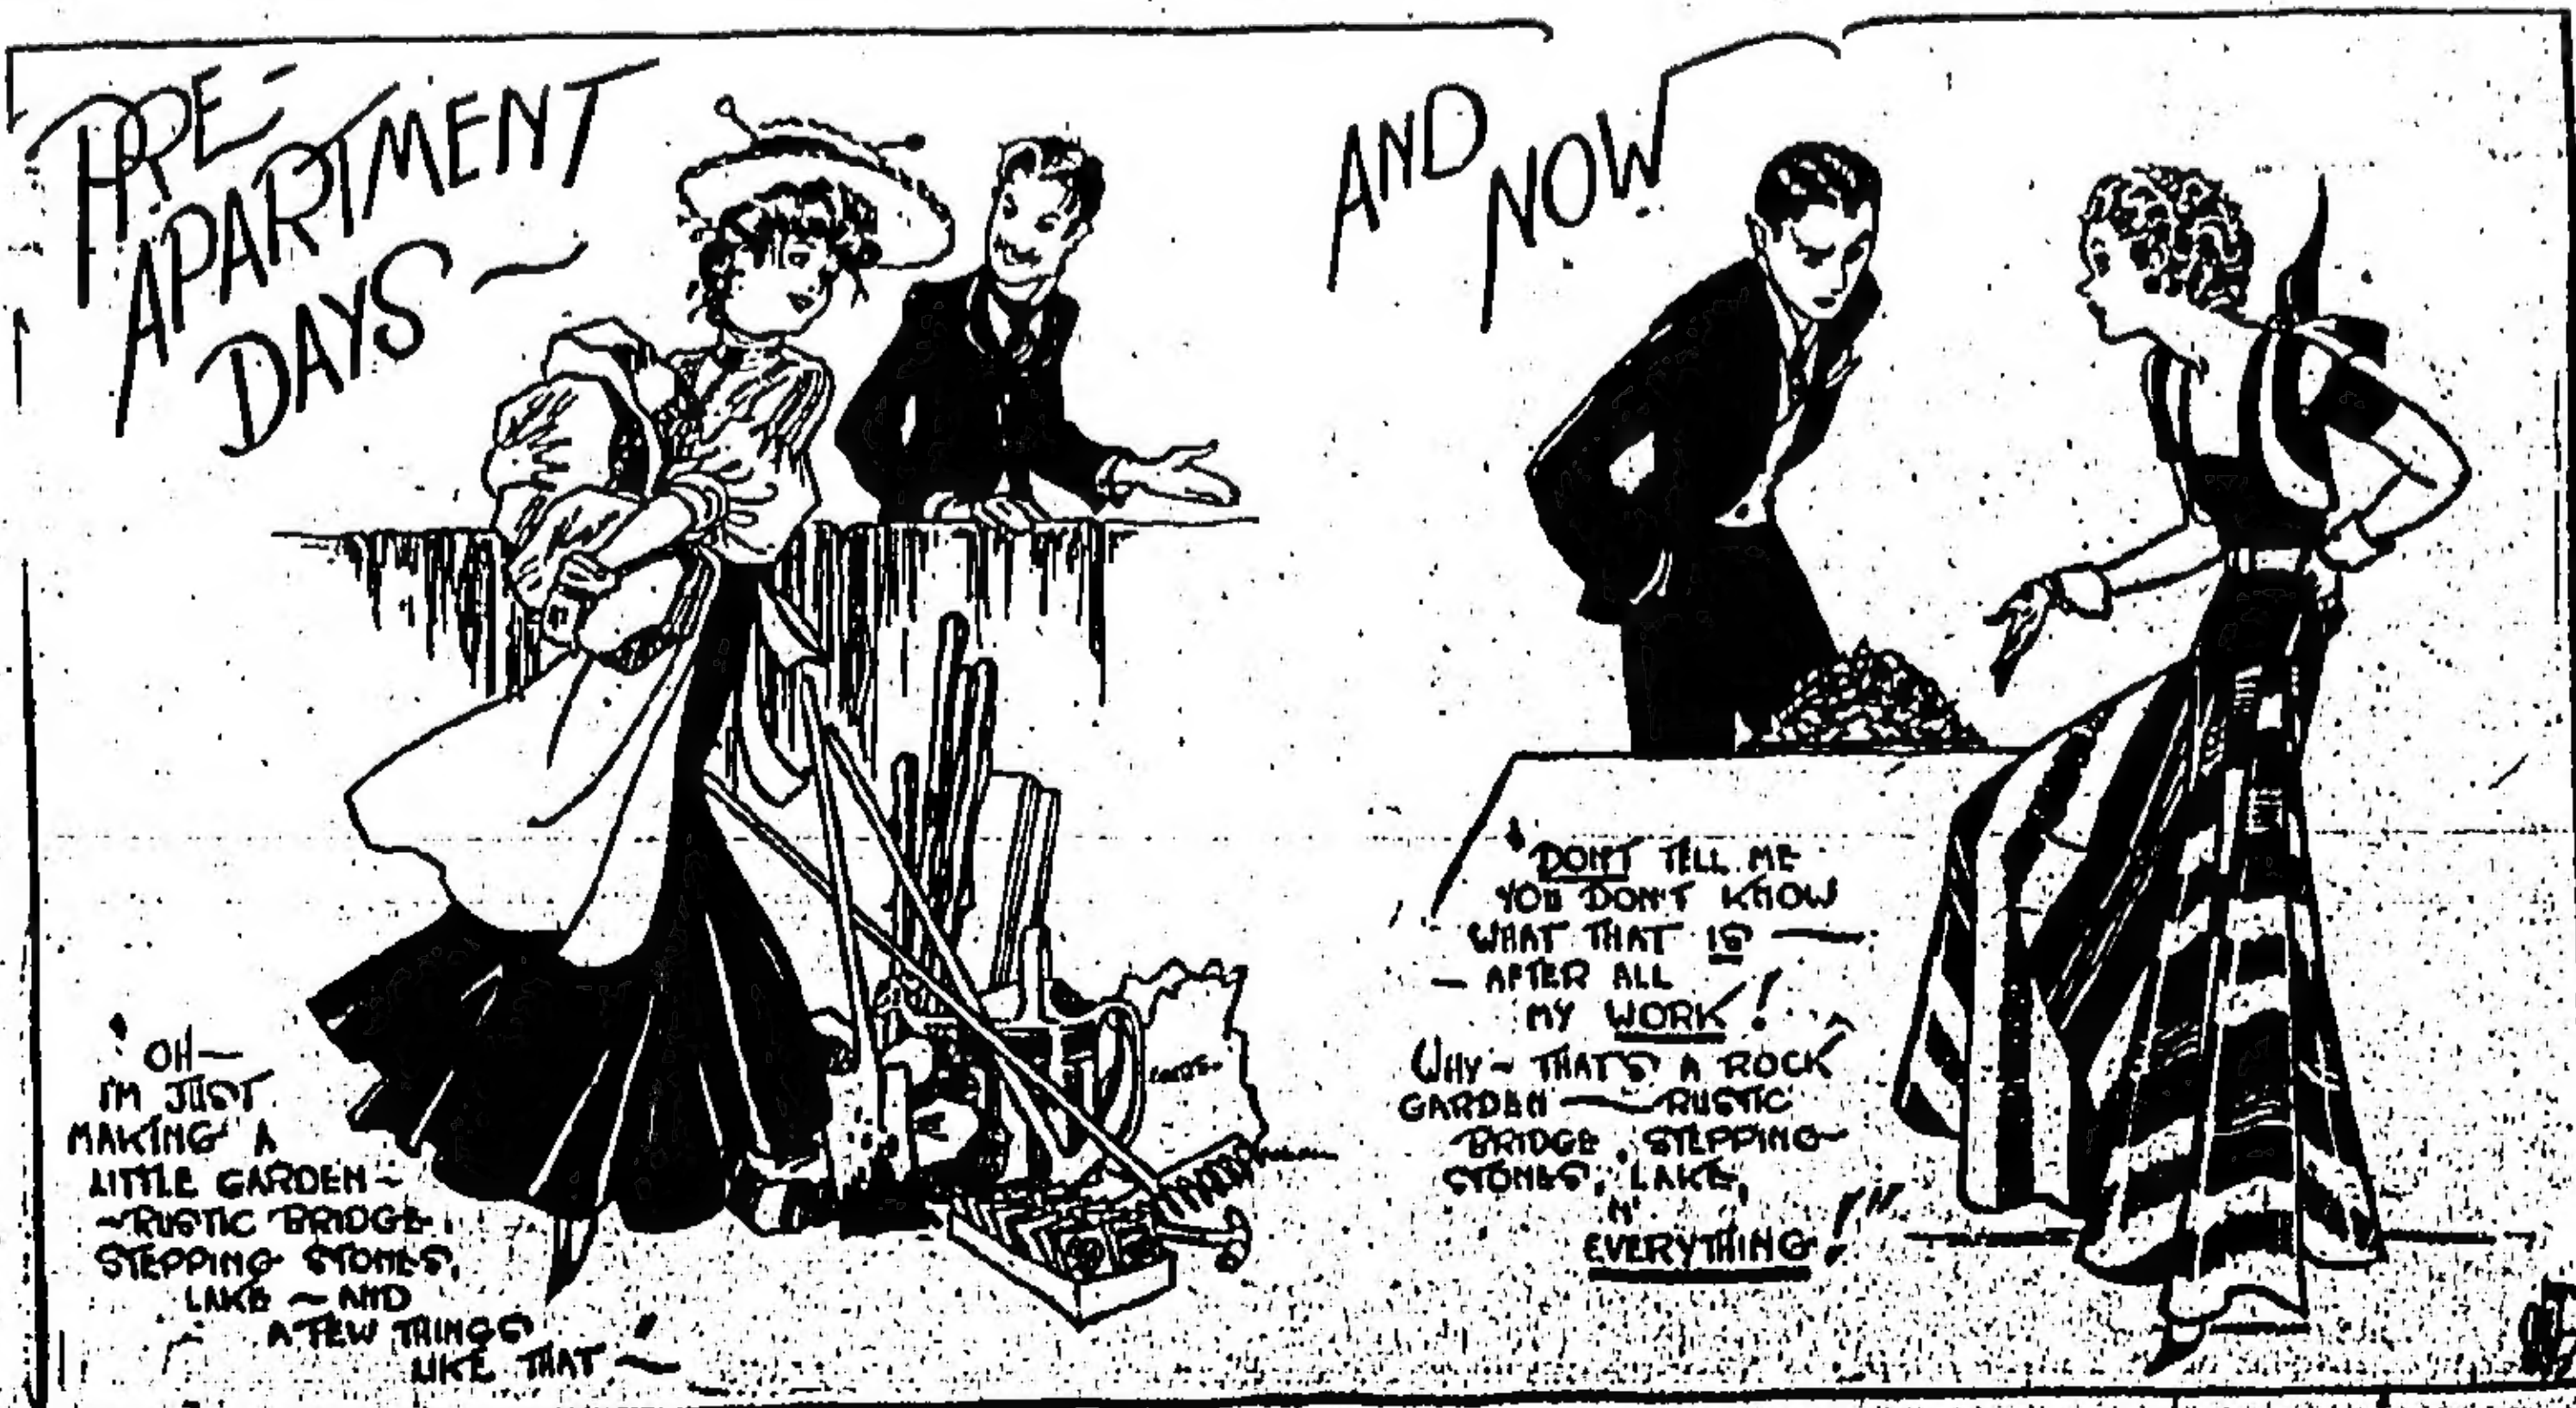

WIRELESS STEERING.

Tests in which fast bombing craft of the R.A.F. will attempt to sink a heavily armoured battleship which is being steered by wireless with no one on board are to be staged in the North Sea during the next few weeks.

The pre-war battleship Centurion, while it is travelling full speed, controlled by an accompanying ship, will be attacked by squadrons of Hawker Royle-Royce and Fairey Armstrong-Siddley day-light bombers, which will rain live bombs on to its heavily armoured deck.

Should they be unable to sink it, a squadron of great torpedo planes will swoop down to within a few feet of the surface of the sea and launch their torpedoes at the battleship.

The tests will be watched by naval and air experts.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

DEFENDANT WHO TURNED KING'S EVIDENCE.

When the hearing of the case in which Yuen Hee-tin is charged with having stolen one hundred cases of glass from his employer, the Lee Yu Kee firm, of Canton Road, was resumed at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court, before Mr. Hamilton yesterday afternoon, Mr. Horace Lo asked for the withdrawal of the charge against Lam Ying-tung, who was charged with conspiracy.

Lam was accordingly discharged and gave evidence for the prosecution. He said that about 8 p.m. on June 2 or 3, he was in the Cheung Sing mirror shop, in Shanghai Street, when Yuen came to him, and said that he (Yuen) had a friend, the master of a glass shop in Canton, who had ordered 500 cases of glass from the Lee Yu Kee firm, but was short of $500 whereof to purchase the glass, the delivery of which was to take place in a week. Defendant requested witness to act as a broker for his friend and sell one hundred of those cases for him, so that he could have the money to purchase the rest. Witness arranged to sell the hundred cases to the Sun Hing shop. Witness was first introduced to Wong On, the man who was selling the five hundred cases, by Yuen on June 7. Yuen asked him to take Wong to the Sun Hing shop and bargain with the master. He did this and, accordingly, it was arranged that delivery of the one hundred cases was to be made the following day.

On this day, witness went with Yuen and Wong to the Sun Hing shop to arrange for a storage space, but, on the way, Yuen left them on the pretext that he had some other business to see to. Witness and Wong went to the shop and while they were preparing the storage place the master of the shop arrived. The glass was delivered about the same time. Witness had seen the defendant having a delivery form before, but he did not see the defendant again after he had taken leave of them, until his arrest. He did not see Wong either. Witness received $35 as commission from Wong. He did not know it was a swindle.

In reply to Mr. F. X. D'Almada (Jnr.), witness said that he did not see Wong before the defendant. He denied that all his dealings had been with Wong only.

After the evidence of another witness had been heard, the hearing was adjourned until July 13.

BELGIAN STEAMER.

ARRIVES HERE FOR THE FIRST TIME.

A Belgian steamer, new to the port, arrived here on Sunday morning from Durr-es-Salaam, this being the Kabalo, which brought in 1,450 tons of general cargo for Hongkong and 1,562 tons for through ports.

Under the command of Capt. Joseph Nussel, with a crew of 42 Europeans, the Kabalo left Antwerp for Durr-es-Salaam on May 10, and sailed from the latter port for Hongkong on June 13, making this latter voyage direct.

Of 5,186 tons gross and 3,121 tons net, the Kabalo is a steel screw steamer and was built in 1917 by the Kimmell Laird and Co. Ltd. of Birkenhead. Before she was called by her present name she had been known as the Calcedonier and War Myrtle.

She is owned by the Compagnie Maritime Belge, S.A., for whom the Bank Line are the local agents. She has a length of 400 feet, a beam of 52.4 feet and a depth of 28.4 feet. She is registered at Antwerp.

SHANGHAI STRIKE.

SCAVENGERS IN FRENCH CONCESSION.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, July 6.
An intolerable situation has arisen in the French Concession as the result of a strike in which the scavenging coolies have joined.

The motor shop employees and the clerical staff of the French Municipal Council demand the right to form an association. They also want higher wages and seek the dismissal of a foreign supervisor. They were joined by the scavenging coolies, and these ceased work on Thursday, sweepers and collectors all absenting themselves. Since then the garbage has accumulated and to-day is piled high in heaps. Yesterday there was a heavy downpour of rain which washed quantities of rubbish along the flooded streets.

Some 2,500 men are involved in the walk-out. Last night efforts were made to mediate, but failed. Further negotiations will take place to-night, and failure to induce the men to resume will necessitate the use of convict labour.

KOREAN RIOTS SPREAD.

TROUBLE REPORTED EVERYWHERE.

Tokyo, July 6.
Anti-Chinese riots and demonstrations are reported from all of the leading towns and cities in Korea. Great uneasiness prevails throughout the peninsula and commercial transactions at Seoul and Pyongyang have been brought to a standstill.

Four thousand Chinese are taking refuge at their Consulate in Pyongyang and the Chinese Minister this morning called at the Foreign Office and requested protection for his countrymen from the fury of the Korean mobs.

An official despatch received at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs puts the Chinese casualties at Pyongyang at 37 killed and 93 injured.—Reuter.

Methodical Attacks.

Tokyo, July 6.
Official circles are plainly perturbed and deeply regretful over the anti-Chinese riots, and apprehensive lest the Koreans' atrocities incite the Chinese to retaliate in Manchuria and Mongolia, where over half a million Koreans are scattered over wide areas. Should this happen, no seems feared, there may be far-reaching developments, and it would be difficult for either the Chinese authorities or the Japanese to afford protection in the sparsely populated and ill-policed areas of the interior.

The latest reports indicate that the Koreans at Pyongyang acted methodically, their leaders directing the attacks with the aid of maps, marking the location of Chinese dwellings.—Reuter.

Serious Aspects.

Tientsin, July 6.
The Kirin border affair has assumed serious aspects. The request of the Japanese Consul at Kirin for compensation to the Korean farmers has been refused by the Government, which requests the Japanese to punish their soldiers who had so roughly used the Chinese.—Reuter.

MONTHLY REPORT ON THE DOGS' HOME.

During the month of June and especially since the removal of the Muzzling Order the activities at the Dogs' Home have decreased, says the report of the Hongkong Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Only 12 dogs were admitted to the Home and with a balance from May of 31 the number on the books for June total 42.

Of the twelve admitted during June the following is a summary:
Sent by Police 1
Brought to be destroyed 3
Brought for custody 3
Brought for treatment 2
Brought not required 1
From Kennedy Town kennels 1
Returned unsuitable 1

Total 12

During the month nine were sold, five returned to owners and one died on arrival at the Home.

Owing to the inability to provide a home for some of the dogs it was found necessary to destroy 12, most of which had been in the Home a considerable time. Several dogs were brought to the Home by owners and enquiries made by telephone as to what treatment to give the dogs for minor ailments. Advice was freely given.

The remaining 13 dogs in the Home at present are all in good health and condition.

DOCTOR'S 18. A MONTH.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD PACT KEPT.

London, June 13. A ship's captain and an Australian doctor who made a solemn pact over the dinner-table at a Regent-street restaurant seven years ago have returned to London, and are arranging a little reunion dinner at the same place.

The two men, Captain J. Beighton, skipper of the White Star liner Ferndale, which reached London from Melbourne yesterday, and Dr. H. Gengoult Smith, a City Councillor of Melbourne, who signed on as the ship's doctor, met for the first time in London seven years ago.

"When a friend introduced me to the captain at the restaurant, we naturally felt that, as we came from the same part of the world, we had much in common," Dr. Gengoult Smith told the News-Chronicle yesterday. "I was then on holiday, and we agreed that if ever the captain was in need of a ship's doctor he would send for me and I would sail with him."

"Before we left Melbourne, Captain Beighton wired me that he wanted a ship's doctor almost immediately. He reminded me of the promise, and I kept it. I signed on as doctor at a nominal 18s. a month."

When the reunion dinner took place, the captain and the doctor will probably sit at the table where the pact was originally made. Dr. Gengoult Smith is a bachelor, and served in France

TWO AIRMEN KILLED.

G.W.R. DIRECTOR'S SON.

Vernieuw-Sur-Avre (France).

June 14. Two British airmen were killed here this afternoon when a touring aeroplane in which they were flying to Le Mans was caught in a gale and, crashing near a farmhouse, burst into flames.

They were Mr. John Robertson, son of Sir Henry Robertson, a director of the Great Western Railway Company, and Mr. Harold Halley Brock, of Oban, Argyllshire. Their identity was learned from two motor drivers' licences which fell from the machine as it crashed and were blown clear of the flames.

The machine fell within ten yards of the farmhouse owner, M. Delaunoy. "He seemed to be trying to land," said M. Delaunoy, "when there came a fierce gust and the plane was blown down towards my farm. I ran towards the wreckage, but there was a burst of flame, and in a second or two the machine was a blazing mass. It was impossible to help."

The machines left Heston air port this morning, piloted by Mr. Brock, who was the owner. He and Mr. Robertson were close friends.

during the war. He is a candidate for the Lord Mayoralty of Melbourne in the Nationalist cause, and he will return to Australia in good time for the October elections.

SERIOUS FLOODS IN SOUTH.

REPORTED LOSS OF 4,000 LIVES.

Canton, July 6. Railway services along the Canton-Shiukwan and Canton-Samshui Railways have been suspended because of the seriousness of the rising floods.

The Government Arsenal at Shekchang, near Canton, has been flooded and the guards had a busy time during the week-end removing the ammunition, some of which has been damaged. The magazine is now one foot under water.

30 Feet of Water.

Inhabitants of northern Kwangtung are in serious plight, the number of homeless farmers being estimated in tens of thousands. Some of the districts along the Canton-Shiukwan Railway are covered with from twenty to thirty feet of water, while in the Taling Yuen district alone over 10,000 houses and farmsteads have been destroyed. The Taling Yuen Magistrate reports that damage done to property and rice fields is estimated at about $3,000,000.

Realizing the possibility of the northern forces taking advantage of the floods to invade Kwangtung, General Chan Chai-long has instructed his troops to reinforce the fortifications, despite the inundation. Gunboats have been sent out to patrol the North and West Rivers against a revival of bandit activities, and to provide relief work.

Heavy Casualties.

The management of the Canton-Shiukwan Railway reports that near Yuen Tam Station 2,000 persons, including many women and children, have been killed and thousands of farmers have been rendered homeless. The majority of rice fields are badly flooded, and it is believed that the spring crop has been ruined.

Relief workers, sent by the Government, found 5,000 refugees assembled on the hills at Fu An awaiting rescue. Immediately they sighted the relief workers, hundreds of refugees raided the sampans and launches and looted for food-stuff. The relief workers were unable to check the rush. They report that unless large consignments of food are sent from Canton it will be exceedingly hard for them to carry on.

Many dead bodies can be seen in the districts of northern Kwangtung, scattered over the fields. Wuchow and Shuihui, on the West River, are also flooded, although the latest messages to hand show that the situation has fortunately been not so serious. In certain areas on the West River the water has subsided two feet in the past two days.

The Canton Chinese Chamber of Commerce and the Fong Pin Hospital and various charitable associations met during the week-end and decided to organize a Flood-Relief Committee. The subscription list will be opened to the public and both the Chamber and Fong Pin Hospital have consented to subscribe $5,000 each.

Worst in 17 Years.

Canton, July 5. Periodically in one or another of the watersheds that irrigate that province of Kwangtung rising waters inundate large tracts of land, but seldom do the East,

POPE'S ENCYCLICAL.

SHARP REJOINDER FROM MUSSOLINI EXPECTED.

Rome, July 6. While indifference is professed in Fascist circles toward the subject matter of Saturday's Encyclical there can be no doubt that the breach between the Vatican and the Chigi Palace has widened as a result of the Vatican's method of publication.

It appears that an American prelate was entrusted with the Encyclical the day before its publication and he hastened to Paris and entrusted it to an American agency.

Copies of the Encyclical were distributed in the Churches on Sunday. It is expected that a rejoinder from Signor Mussolini will bring matters to a head.—Reuter.

West and North River overflow their banks at one and the same time, as they have this season. Not since the third year of the Republic has so much country been covered by the rising streams. The damage done there would have been equalled if not surpassed this time had not the Conservancy Board in the meanwhile built many engineering works that have helped to counteract the action of the torrents.

Least damage has been done in the East River area owing to the fact that along so much of the course there are highlands close to the river. It is in the section watered by the North River particularly that destruction has been wrought.

40,000 Starving.

Summarizing statistics hurriedly gathered, the Ming Pao Yat Po, official organ of the Kuomintang, estimates that 40,000 persons living north of Canton City are suffering from lack of food through the damage done to the almost ripened crops and the sweeping away of their homes. 4,000 people have lost their lives in various parts of the province as a result of the floods.

Benevolent societies, the Nanyang Tobacco Company and others have met the emergency by buying foodstuffs and shipping them to the districts where they are most urgently needed. And relatives and friends of those in the flooded regions have been sending packages of eatables to the unfortunate.

The Canton-Shiukwan Railway has been badly crippled through the washing away of bridges and embankments, and it may be a month before there can be a resumption of the through service Canton-Shiukwan. To put the roadbed in proper shape will entail an expenditure of around $1,000,000.—A Correspondent.

Better Outlook.

Canton, July 6. The floods in the North River area have partly subsided, and there is no water on the Canton and Shiukwan line. Direct communication between Canton and Shiukwan would be resumed if the foundation of the line between Wonshek and Pakong had not been washed away. Train services from Canton to Tam Yuen and from Yingtak to Shiukwan have been organized, the gap between Tam Yuen and Yingtak being joined by a ferry service.—Reuter.

THE "ROYAL SCOT" DISASTER.

ENGINEERS FAILED TO OBEY SIGNALS.

London, July 6. The official enquiry into the "Royal Scot" train accident last March has found that it was due to failure of the "Royal Scot" engineers to obey signal indications. Direct evidence with regard to the circumstances in which this occurred must remain a surprise, as both engineers were killed.—Reuter.

The crack express "Royal Scot" jumped the metals near Loughton Buzzard on March 22. The engine and three coaches were completely wrecked, and twelve of the following coaches also jumped the rails. An official statement announced that six persons were killed in the disaster, including the driver and the fireman. Nine others were very seriously injured and a number were less seriously hurt.

The train was approaching a speed of 70 miles an hour, when it reared like a horse, and eithered on to its side, with a shrieking hiss, while the carriages piled up like a contorted snake, imprisoning the passengers for many hours.

The fatalities included Sir George Saltmarsh, who was identified by papers in his pocket, and Miss Dorothy Long, aged eighteen, of Greenock, whose leg was amputated before she could be released from the wreckage, but died later.

£30,000 TRIAL.

LAW SUIT TO BE HEARD A THIRD TIME.

It was announced in the King's Bench Division yesterday that an action that has already been tried twice, that has been before the Court for 22 days, and that has cost nearly £30,000 in legal expenses, will be heard for the third time.

Mr. Henry Yager, managing director of H. Yager (London), Limited, and other companies, sued Mr. H. C. Turner, of Edinburgh, Mr. F. L. Osborne, and Mr. P. Halliday, of London, directors of the Midland Furnishing Company, Limited, for £40,000 damages which, he alleges, he sustained in consequence of his having agreed to buy shares in the Midland Company. He made allegations of misrepresentation which the defendants strongly denied.

The first trial was stopped after eight days' hearing because a jurymen had discussed the case with a member of the public. The jury at the second trial answered some questions, but disagreed upon others.

Mr. Norman Birkett, K.C., yesterday submitted that no verdict had been recorded and that the jury must be regarded as having disagreed, and Mr. Justice Finlay upheld this contention and refused to enter judgment for either party. He gave the plaintiff his costs of this application.

It was announced that fresh notice of trial had been entered. Mr. Norman Birkett, K.C., Mr. Roland Burrows, and Mr. A. H. Davis (instructed by Mr. A. W. Fryer) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Croom Johnson, K.C., Mr. G. O. Slade, and Mr. E. R. Guest (instructed by Messrs. Stafford

Well-known experts in medicine and sociology from many parts of the British Empire and from foreign countries are coming to London for the fifth Imperial Social Hygiene Congress which is to be held from July 13 to July 17.

The Prime Minister and Miss MacDonald will hold a reception at 10, Downing Street on July 16 for delegates to the Congress.

Thomas, M.P., Dominions Secretary; Lord Passfield, Colonial Secretary; Mr. Wedgwood Benn, M.P., Secretary for India and Mr. Arthur Greenwood, M.P., Minister of Health, as well as a number of Colonial High Commissioners. Mr. L. S. Amery, M.P., a former secretary for the Dominions and Colonies, will speak following the Presidential address of Sir Basil Blackett. Other speakers will include Colonel L. W. Harrison, D.S.O., the well-known authority on social diseases, Mr. Lucien Viborn (France), Professor A. Bostock Hill, Mrs. C. Neville-Rolfe, O.B.E., Dame Louise Mellory, D.B.E., Dr. T. Drummond Shiels, M.P., and Mr. Kenneth Walker, F.R.C.S.

COLCHESTER TIE
OF 69 RUNS ON FIRST INNINGS.

ESSEX BEAT HAMPSHIRE
BY TWO WICKETS.

UNUSUAL CRICKET.

London, July 6.
Essex gained their fifth victory—third in successive matches—at the expense of Hampshire to-day, winning an exciting, though low-scoring game, with two wickets to spare.

The match was played at Colchester, was terminated in two days, and was strikingly unusual in that the eleven tied on the first innings, each being dismissed for the paltry score of 69 runs!

The wicket on Saturday played all sorts of tricks and the batsmen could not settle down. Hampshire cutted first and were dismissed in little over an hour. Some wonderful bowling by Hampshire's amateur bowler, A. E. G. Baring, who plays only too seldom, caused Essex also to be dismissed for 69. Baring took 9 wickets for 26 runs.

In their second innings, Hampshire compiled 150, Nichols taking 5 for 48. Essex scored 151 for the loss of eight wickets.—Reuter.

U.S. GOLF THRILL.

Toledo, July 6.

Billy Burke, the new American golf star, won the American Open championship to-day, returning a card of 148 for the 36 holes of the second replay, George Von Elm being one stroke behind.

Burke's victory was well deserved. After being a stroke down at the end of the morning round, he played wonderful golf this afternoon to return a brilliant 71. Von Elm also played splendidly, but his 73 was not quite enough.

At the eighteenth, Von Elm had taken 76 and Burke 77, and the latter's remarkable uphill battle in the afternoon is particularly notable as producing his best score for 18 holes during the tournament.

The rivals played 144 holes before the championship was decided, their scores for each 36 holes being as follows:

Burke 145 147 149 148 589
Von Elm 144 148 149 149 589

The late General Lytton, who was born in 1845, was the third son of the fourth Baron Lytton. He was educated at Eton and entered the Rifle Brigade in 1865, and served with it in Canada, India and at home. He served in the Fenian Rebellion, Canada, in 1867 and in the Egyptian Expedition of 1882, including the Battle of Tel-el-Kebir; also in the Nile Expedition of 1898, in command of a Brigade, and was present at the Battle of Khartoum.

He was appointed A. A. G. at the War Office in 1895 and was Assistant Military Secretary from 1897 to 1898, whilst in 1899 he was in command of the 2nd Infantry Brigade at Aldershot.
